

Summer

Ray Jordan's 2015 WA Wine Guide has been released. The 2013 Pemberley Sauvignon Blanc was awarded Best Sauvignon Blanc (95/100) and the 2013 Pemberley Pinot Noir Rose was awarded Best Rose (95/100).

The Sauvignon Blanc category also includes the 2012 Robert Bowen Sauvignon Blanc and the 2013 Houghton Wisdom Sauvignon Blanc – making 3 very fine wines being acknowledged from the Pemberley vineyards. Well done to Dave who continues year after year to cement his position as one of the finest and most successful grape growers in Western Australia. Ray described the Pemberley Rose as 'becoming the benchmark for this style of Rose' - it is nice to think that Pemberley wines are setting trends in the industry – this wine only in its second vintage.

Every year we continue to see fantastic wines coming out of the David Radomiljac / Robert Bowen collaboration – and it is very gratifying to continue to get such great recognition.

In the coming 12 months, we look forward to releasing some more great wines including the long, long awaited 2014 Pemberley Chardonnay in December and the 2015 Pemberley Pinot Noir hopefully in May.

In The Vines

Growing and growing.

The vines are growing like Triffids, the foliage wires are all going up to support the fruit and the grapes are all set on the vines and growing towards ripening. The potatoes are also lush and green as they quietly grow bigger and bigger beneath the red karri soil.

There are dozens of boxes of ladybirds, or Cryptolaemus, and Lacewings flying to Pemberton from Queensland to tackle all the bugs that we don't like in the vineyard .... Harley will be appointed chief releaser when they all arrive.

The roses are all looking amazing and are doing their job by looking healthy and warning David of any possible threats to the vines from insects or poor weather conditions.

The hay is cut and baled and decoratively dotting the paddocks in giant square bales.

The calves are all ready to be weighed and videoed for the great annual cattle sale in Pemberton in early December ... we will be cheering for them to top the sale as they are all looking great!

We have had a succession of young Swedish and Estonian travellers on working holidays tending our vines, so look forward to some international flavours in the next vintage

We are expecting more new wines, so once again, it's time to make some room in the cellar...
